About Us
The Graduate School (TGS) promotes a transformative educational experience for graduate students and postdoctoral trainees at Northwestern University. The Graduate School’s Office of Diversity and Inclusion (ODI) focuses on the recruitment and support of underrepresented populations to foster an inclusive environment and facilitate community engagement. We are committed to the personal and intellectual growth of our diverse student population.

Recruitment Initiatives
Introduction to Graduate Education at Northwestern (IGEN)
IGEN is a two-day visit for undergraduate STEM+ juniors and seniors to Northwestern’s Chicago and Evanston campuses.

Summer Research Opportunity Program (SROP)
SROP is an eight-week hands-on research experience at Northwestern University for undergraduate sophomores and juniors across all disciplines.

Diverse Graduate Student Associations
Below are just a few of our many student associations that promote interactions among graduate students, provide academic and social programs, and serve as advocates for graduate students:

- Black Graduate Student Association (BGSA)
- Communidad Latinx (CLX)
- Graduate Student Association of Spanish and Latin Activities (G-SALSA)
- Queer Pride Graduate Student Association (QPGSA)

Engagement and Retention Initiatives
Bouchet Graduate Honor Society (BGHS)
Named for Edward Alexander Bouchet, the first African American doctoral recipient in the United States, BGHS recognizes outstanding scholarly achievement and promotes diversity and excellence in doctoral education and the professoriate.

Diversity Celebrations
- Fall: Underrepresented Minority (URM) Welcome Reception (Evanston campus)
- Summer: Summertime Chi (Chicago campus)

Graduate Students of Color Wellness Group
Provides a dedicated and supportive space that fosters meaningful group discussion surrounding the importance of self-care and well-being.

ODI Dinner Series (Evanston and Chicago Campuses)
This monthly dinner series provides social engagement, professional development opportunities, and theme dinners for TGS students.

TGS Diversity Peer Mentor Program
Incoming URM PhD students are matched with current URM PhD mentors for their first year at Northwestern.

"After spending the summer of 2014 at Northwestern for SROP, I knew that this was a place where I could spend the next five to six years of my life. Northwestern is an excellent research institution with a collaborative environment."
Liliana M. Hernandez Gonzalez
PhD candidate in Environmental Engineering, former SROP participant, and recent BGHS inductee

"My work investigates how Black, Latinx, and Afro-Latinx queer people, specifically transwomen, respond to social, economic, cultural, and political marginalization."
Julian Kevon Glover
PhD candidate in African American Studies and recent BGHS inductee
